

Alireza Khosrozadeh, Iran

Marjona Khamrokulouva, Uzbekistan

Uzbekistan Spring

Spring in Uzbekistan is usually early. It is at the end of February - beginning of March. So to the Women's Day a romantic atmosphere with wonderful bouquets of tulips and yellow daffodils is formed.

Sometimes in spring there are light frosts, which may be accompanied by snowfalls and damage gardening. 40% of annual precipitation falls in spring. Sometimes the rains fall as heavy showers, and then mud flows are formed in the mountains. Violent dirty and rocky streams destroy everything in their path.

In April - May, the air temperature rises, the air is warming up, there is less precipitation, and summer begins.

Best time to visit Uzbekistan

The most favorable time for a guided tour in Uzbekistan is spring (April-June) or autumn (September-November). You can find a way and to come here in spring and summer. These are totally two different, but equally beautiful and amazing sceneries. Natural landscapes are very diverse and picturesque. On Uzbek territory one can find grim deserts and blossoming valleys, snow-capped mountain peaks of the Tien Shan and the flattened plains of the Ustyurt, wild rivers and quiet backwaters of reservoirs.

*Designed by Marjona Khamrokulouva
First Year Business Management Student
Samarkand International University of Technology*

Elina Masoudi, Iran

Amina Gassanova, Kazakhstan

Yelin Kang, South Korea

Minjoo Kang, South Korea

Ali Akrami, Iran

March 21

Hello
SPRING

HAPPY NOWRUZ

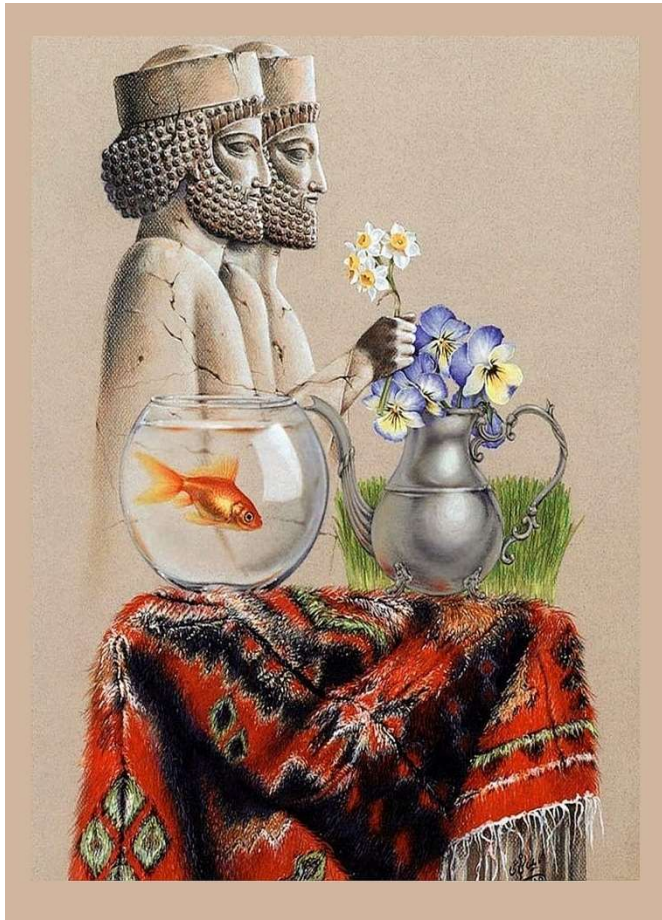

The Iranian New Year, which is derived from the traditions of ancient Iran and corresponds to the arrival of spring and the revival of nature.

Latife Sakhi, Afganistan

HAPPY NOWRUZ
1402
A YEAR TO CELEBRATE FREEDOM

Sahel Alinezhad, Iran

Mohammad Razani, Iran

